TWO BIG STEEL FIRMS' MERGER IS RATIFIED

NEW YORK, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Moses Taylor, chairman of the Lackawanna Steel Company, and Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, were summoned late today to appear before the Lockwood legislative committee Thursday for examination concerning the merger of the two concerns, ratified earlier in the day by their boards of directors.

NEW YORK, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The Bethlehem-Lackawanna steel merger was ratified today by directors of both companies.

Bethlehem will pay for the Lackawanna properties in seven per cent preferred stock and Class B common stock, giving an aggregate amount of two classes equal in par value to the par value of Lackawanna's outstanding stock—$55,108,700.

Forty per cent of the payment will be made in seven per cent preferred and sixty per cent in Class B common, Bethlehem reserving the right, however, to reduce the amount of preferred and increase the amount of Class B common paid by $1,543,000 per value upon payment of approximately $300,000 in cash.

NEW YORK, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Government intervention into the proposed steel mergers has caused no outward change in the plans of the interests involved. Except for a brief statement by President Eugene G. Grace, of Bethlehem, when the merger was announced, that it involved no violation of the Sherman or Clayton acts, interested persons have made no comment on the action of the federal trade commission in requesting information concerning the same before the deal was completed.

The commission's action was taken as a result of a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator La Follette, who charged that the combination was in restraint of trade and that, together with the proposed merger of six independent steel companies, was the result of a secret understanding with the United States Steel Corporation.

Thomas L. Chabbourne, counsel for the six independent companies has issued a statement denying that the six companies were in an attempt to effect a monopoly of that it had any agreement with the United States Steel Corporation.

The only motive behind the combination he explained, was a desire to lower the costs of production, thereby increasing competition.

Presidents and chairmen of the six independent companies conferred today with representatives of Kohn, Lash & Company, bankers, to work out a plan of financing the combination. This will be accomplished by an exchange of cash and securities and the reorganization of one of the larger companies or the formation of a new one. The companies involved are the Brier Hill Steel Company, Inland Steel Company, Steel and Tube Company of America, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Appointment of L. G. Nitt, former chief of the narcotic section of the internal revenue bureau, as associate federal prohibition director for the state of Illinois, was announced today by Commissioner Haynes.

WORLD'S LARGEST SHIP ENDS MAIDEN TRIP

NEW YORK, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The Majestic, world's largest ship, was rolling down from Nantuxet to Sandy Hook today on the last lap of her maiden voyage across the Atlantic. Shortly after daybreak, all arrangements had been made to give the new empress of the seas a triumphal entry to the harbor.

Three White Star tugs, carrying White Star Line officials, the police boat John F. Hylan, with a band, a United States shipping board tug and several smaller boats, were in readiness to go down to Quarantine to give the giant craft a fitting welcome.

The Majestic, which is of 50,000 tons displacement, is not only the largest, but probably the speediest passenger ship now afloat. She has a record of 25 knots an hour and her engines are still stiff. When they lumber up her officers and officials of the line believe she will make at least four more knots and during her summer runs eclipse the trans-Atlantic record, now held by the Mauretania.

Ocean Giants May Race
Probably the first week in August, when the Mauretania is coming this way and the Majestic is Europe bound, the two giants will race. By that time, officers of the Majestic

MAJESTIC MADE AS SAFE AS POSSIBLE

DESIGNERS of the Majestic have applied a lesson learned from the Titanic disaster to make this largest of liners practically unsinkable. This safety factor is brought about by a new and improved bulkhead arrangement. The boat is thoroughly fire-proofed also. Three wireless stations are provided. Life boats enough to carry 5,000 passengers and crew are supplemented by two wireless-equipped motor boats.

say, her great oil burner and her eight mammoth turbines, each weighing 375 tons, will drive the Majestic at top speed, somewhere in the vicinity of 28 knots an hour.

The Majestic, even, as a German ship before she was never made a passenger voyage. She was built in Germany as the Bismarck, laid up in Hamburg during the war and then sold to England by the reparations commission. She was then converted to an oil burner, made more luxurious and named the Majestic.

Loaded as she was today on her maiden voyage, the Majestic weighed close to 64,000 tons. With the passengers, crew, oil stores, supplies, baggage and mail, she becomes the heaviest boat in the cross-Atlantic service.

Can Accommodate 4,100 Passengers
The liner can accommodate 4,100 passengers—more than the largest hotel in New York can put up comfortably over night. There are 1,245 state rooms, 472 of which are first-class, most of them being at least as luxurious as the rooms in the most exclusive hotels. In the second cabin are 212 state rooms, in the third, 561. Every room has electric lights, 15,000 bulbs are used.

Most of the huge liners now sailing the seas are built around the engines. That is, they are built in such a way that dining rooms, quarters, cabins, even stairs, are made secondary to the engine room. On the Majestic it is the reverse. All stairs are on the side of the ship. The smoke stacks and ventilators are built along the sides, connecting in air spaces at the top of the elevator shafts on the emergency boat decks. Thus the center of the ship is given over to swimming pool and libraries without obstructions.

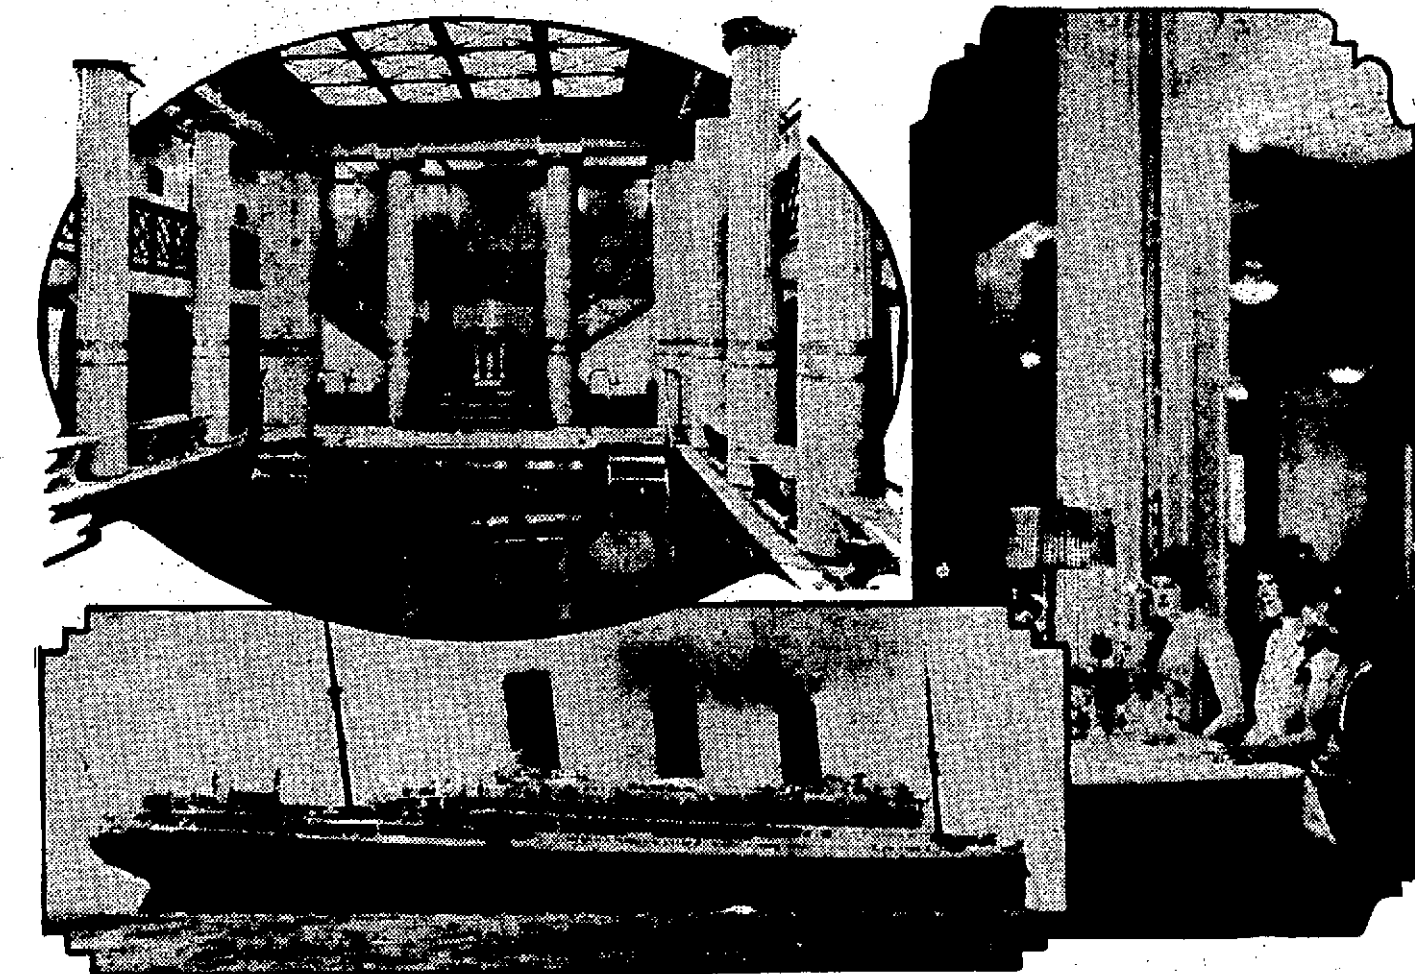

There are eight kitchens on the Majestic and five special dining rooms. In the third class there is a purely orthodox "kosher" kitchen, where such food can be prepared solely for the use of Jewish passengers. There is also "a la carte" dining room, a new departure in service on the ocean.

WHISKEY-LADEN PLANE WRECKED

NEW YORK, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The wrecking of a whiskey laden airplane near Croton-on-Hudson, where New York City's drinking water comes from, caused prohibition authorities today to consider steps to prevent this form of smuggling from Canada.

The plane was a double-seater, and the passenger cockpit had been filled with bottled goods packed in gunnysacks. A clue as to the origin of the cargo was a copy of a Montreal newspaper. Following the crash an irate and limping man hurried toward an automobile, which apparently had been waiting for him. He climbed in and was whisked away. One hundred quart bottles were broken in the crash and fifty were intact.

ELEGANCE DISTINGUISHES THE MAJESTIC

The Majestic, the 50,000-ton White Star liner left Southampton May 10, on her maiden trip to New York. This ship contains a marble swimming pool (upper left) with a surface area of 820 feet. The first cabin dining saloon, glimpsed here, seats 700 persons, and is 31 feet high.

PORTSMOUTH GAS COMPANY'S VALUATION FIXED AT $397,502

COLUMBUS, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The state public utilities commission today fixed the present valuation of the Portsmouth Gas Company at $397,502 for rate making purposes. The valuation is tentative and city and company have 30 days to file exceptions. The reproductive valuation was placed at $582,984 and depreciation at $185,482. The case is an appeal from a gas rate ordinance passed by city council last December.

Primary Held In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Pennsylvania voters went to the polls to nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, two United States senators, representatives in congress and members of the state legislature to be voted for at the November election. The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Weather conditions were favorable and a large vote was expected.

Of overshadowing interest was the contest for the Republican nomination for governor between Attorney General George E. Allen and Gifford Pinchot, former state forestry commissioner. It was the first time in years that the Republicans had gone into a primary fight without a recognized leader and there was widespread interest in the outcome.

10,000 Austrian Kronen For One Dollar

VIENNA, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The Austrian kronen made a new low record yesterday when it fell to 10,000 to the dollar. At this level manufacturers and merchants bought freely, which augurs further depreciation in the currency.

The drop is ascribed to the action of the government in agreeing to pay all the civil servants a bonus of triple their salary and adding other allowances, the whole entailing the expenditure of many billions of kronen and threatening further to increase the cost of living.

NO DECISION ON SHOE STRIKE

CINCINNATI, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Officials of the executive board of the International Union of Shoe Workers had before it again today a request from the local union of shoe workers for strike sanction of 6,000 workers here. The meeting is being held behind closed doors and officials refused to make any comment on the progress of the negotiations.

May Increase The Parcel Post Rates

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Postmaster General Work announced today that in view of the fact that increased costs of handling parcel post mail necessitates a corresponding advance in parcel post rates, he was writing to a large number of parcel post users to get their views on proposed changes, including a service charge of one or two cents on each parcel mailed, regardless of weight or zone.

"EUROPE HOLDING UP AMERICAN BUSINESS"

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Although business conditions are on the mend in this country, the improvement throughout the world, and particularly in Europe, since the war, has "not been sufficient to justify optimism as to the future," Joseph H. Deffres, president of the Chamber of Commerce, of the United States, declared here today in opening the tenth annual meeting of the chamber. Laying before the convention, attended by some 5,000 delegates from every section of the country, the keynote problem to be considered, "European conditions in their effect on American business," Mr. Deffres said.

"When we look eastward to the center of modern civilization in Europe, to the markets of half our export trade, it is only the hopelessly ignorant or the incurable optimist who can work out any immediate assurance of comfort or stability."

"Hunger and its kinsman, Bolshevism, still stalk menacingly across the stage, wars and rumors of wars are yet in progress, boundaries are not fixed, governments are not secure, finances are in turmoil. These things that we fought for, the defeat of militarism and the safety of our own and other free governments, have not yet been attained. How and when we shall aid, in restoring stability in Europe in our own interest as well as in theirs, are, I assert, the greatest and most immediate problems before American business today."

Chile And Peru Seek Row's End

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Having wholeheartedly agreed to reach a just basis of agreement, the delegations of Chile and Peru began today the preparation of a practical method of procedure for their conference here on Tacna-Arica.

Unlike yesterday's opening session, when a brilliant gathering of officials witnessed the formal launching of the conference, today's meeting was convened in a private committee room of the Pan-American Union building. Only members of the two delegations and advisers and secretaries were present.

In all quarters it was predicted today that it would be late in the week before exchanges developed on any of the major issues of the conference.

Prize Haul For "Prohib" Navy

NEW YORK, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The prohibition navy brought a prize into New York harbor today. It was a ship of 125 tons displacement, loaded, it was declared, with 7,000 cases of whiskey. The prize was captured by the cutter Hahn off the New Jersey coast. Six members of the crew were arrested.

Posses Hunt For Bandits

SPRINGFIELD, MO., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Posses today were searching the woods near Lebanon, Missouri, for five bandits, believed to have been the ones who yesterday held up Tom Watkins, Jr., son of the cashier of a local bank, shot him in the back and dangerously wounded Police Detective Ben Lamb, escaping with $20,000, part of the pay roll of the Frisco Railroad shops. National guardsmen from here were bound for the scene.

Bucyrus Girl, Held Prisoner In Shed, To Be Salvation Army Protege

CINCINNATI, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Irene Menges, 26, Bucyrus girl, who was imprisoned for two years in a small smoke house upon the farm of her father, is to find final refuge in a Salvation Army home in Cincinnati, according to an announcement of Captain F. W. Wilkinson, field and organization officer of the army, today. Mr. Wilkinson returned to Cincinnati today from Bucyrus where he said he made a personal investigation into conditions of the girl and stated he does not believe she is insane.

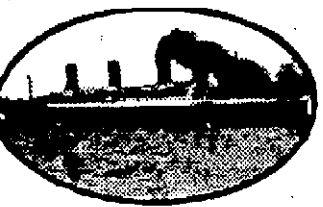

Only Minute Trace of Poison

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—In a final report to County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton, City Chemist Harold J. Kump today said only minute trace of poison could be found in the body of a man whose widow had been suspected of poisoning three of her three husbands.

The body of the woman's fifth husband was twice exhumed and the vital organs removed for analysis. After receiving the chemist's final report Prosecutor Stanton announced no further investigation in the case will be conducted. The woman is being held in jail on charges which have no connection with the deaths of her husband.

Former Member of Industrial Commission Dies

COLUMBUS, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—William J. Shively, 65, former clerk of the state industrial commission during Governor Cox's administration, died yesterday at Quaker City, where he had been gradually forming here that the United States was ready now to join the other powers in dealing with Russian economic problems.

THE MAJESTIC

A LITTLE TALK ON TWO SHIPS

WE humans of 1922 are pretty cocky. We have built a ship 956 feet long. It is called the Majestic.

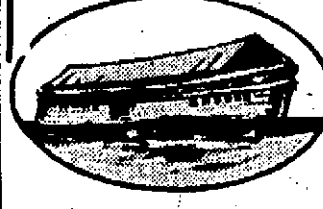

Truly, the building of the Majestic is a great achievement. But before exhausting our superlatives in self-praise, let's look back a little. There once was a ship builder named Noah.

Noah's record, as narrated in the Old Testament, will never be bettered. Here's what he did, as told in Genesis:

"And God said unto Noah, make thee an ark. The length of it fifty cubits, the breadth of it thirty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits. According to the new International Encyclopedia, the ark was 325 feet long, 87 1/2 feet wide, and 52 1/2 feet deep. Not so big as the Majestic, which is 956 feet long, 100 feet wide, and 302 feet deep—but a whale of a boat when one considers Noah's facilities.

Noah had few tools. His materials were gopher wood and pitch. Probably nobody helped him but his sons, Shem, Ham and Japheth, and their wives. Yet they built a ship big enough to house and supply for several months "two of every sort of fowls after their kind, and of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind."

It is well to reflect, in admiring the feat of the Majestic builders, that Noah's record still stands.

THE ARK

Connect "Big 3" With Bombings

CHICAGO, May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Evidence distinctly connecting bomb throwers and the slayers of two policemen with the "big three" Chicago labor leaders, was claimed today by police and state's attorneys, who have worked indefatigably since Terrence Lyons, acting lieutenant, and Thomas Clark, patrolman, were shot down a week ago, after two buildings had been dynamited in the so-called labor war.

Four men have been identified positively as the slayers of the policemen and three of them have confessed, the police said, while John Miller, bartender, owner of the motor car from which the fatal shots were fired, has been identified as the driver, through bloody finger prints on the automobile door. Two men who rode with him were arrested when they applied for medical aid, the police said, one having a body wound and the other a bullet through the shoulder. Under questioning they broke down, police said, and one made a complete confession.

Miller himself confessed early today under constant questioning, the police said. He was removed secretly to an outlying police station because of an attempt to poison him. Police said one dish brought from a restaurant contained a quickly acting poison.

Through these alleged confessions and other information, according to the police, and prosecutors, evidence has been obtained to connect the work of the bombers and killers with "Big Tim" Murphy, head of the gas workers' and street sweepers' unions, former member of the state assembly and congressional secretary; "Con" Shea, of the theatrical janitors' union, and "Frenchy" Mader, president of the Chicago building council. These men, called by the police the "big three," with five others, were held without bail under murder indictments in connection with Lyons' and Clark's deaths. They have maintained innocence since their arrests a week ago.

Have Strong Chain of Evidence
Other incidents in the chain of evidence, the police and corps of prosecutors say they have unearthed, are: Establishing that the saloon of Jerry Horan was headquarters for professional gangsters whose daily business was throwing bombs, slugging workers it was desired to intimidate and killing.

Finding the source of weapons, ammunition and dynamite the bombers and slingers used.

Establishing methods by which the

"ACCIDENTAL DEATH" STRIKES FAMILY FOR THE THIRD TIME

Accidental death for the third time entered the family of Mrs. John Wilson, 414 Third street, this morning when her daughter, Mrs. James Lykens of Nauroo, died, at 7:10 o'clock at Hempstead hospital of tetanus which developed after a six days' suffering with a shattered left ankle sustained last Wednesday morning in a fall from a step-ladder while she was house-cleaning. Her father, William Browning, was accidentally shot and killed near Lucasville 23 years ago. In December, 1919, her brother, Ray Browning, was accidentally killed on the N. & W. railroad at Otway.

Last Wednesday morning Mrs. Lykens was on a step-ladder outside her home when the ladder fell and threw her to the ground. Her left foot was caught under her, the left ankle being shattered. She was removed to Hempstead hospital where an X-ray was taken and the picture showed both main bones broken and crushed and the ankle dislocated. The ends of the bones came out through the flesh making the break a most serious one. An effort was made by attending physicians to save the foot. Monday afternoon tetanus developed and it became necessary to amputate the foot just above the ankle.

After passing a fair night she suffered another attack of tetanus this morning which resulted in her death. Tetanus, the contraction of infection in a wound, causes toxic spasms of the voluntary muscles. It was the second attack of the spasms this morning that brought the final summons.

Mrs. Stella May Browning Lykens was born July 31, 1886, at Wameleyville, Adams county, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall Browning. About 26 years ago the family moved to the West Side near Lucasville. Sixteen years ago the family moved to Portsmouth. Mrs. Lykens was married four years ago in Vanceburg, Ky. her death coming a day after her fourth wedding anniversary.

Surviving are her husband James Lykens, a well known N. & W. car repairer, and two step-daughters, Opal and Mildred Lykens. Mrs. Lykens had been a real mother to her step-children who had learned to love her and idolize her as the one person most interested in their lives. She is also survived by her step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, 414 Third street, two sisters, Mrs. O. H. Lewis and Mrs. Joseph Barber of this city and two brothers, William Browning of this city and Walter Browning of Omega, O. The deceased also leaves a legion of friends in this city and on the West Side where she was widely known.

Mrs. Lykens was a member of the First Christian church of this city. The body has been removed to the home of the mother, Mrs. John Wilson, 414 Third street.

Will Discontinue Down Town Store

It is with a poignant feeling of regret that A. Brunner and Sons Tuesday announced that on June 1, their downtown store, at Second and Market streets, a West End institution for over 40 years will be discontinued.

It will be merged with the firm's up-to-date drygoods store on Gallia street. Adolph and Henry Brunner who had been in charge of the store will become identified with the firm's uptown establishment.

The Brunner store was founded in 1883 by the late R. Brunner and Daniel Clemens. It has always remained in its present building, which will be for sale or will be offered for lease.

After R. Brunner passed away he left the business to A. Brunner, for years a leading merchant of this city. This was in 1870 and the store since that time had been known as A. Brunner and Sons or perhaps it was better known as Brunner's Corner.

And what memories these names awaken in the minds of the older West End residents. They looked upon the Brunner store as an indispensable part of that section of the city and the West End did not seem like the good old West End without A. Brunner and Sons name over the door of the modest little three story brick building on the northeast corner of Second and Market streets.

"My how we did hate to put up signs in the store that it will be discontinued after June 1," Albert Brunner said Tuesday.

"Father ran the store so long and we were all literally born and reared in it and will regret its passing more than anyone. But we feel that by concentrating our efforts and energies in our big store on Gallia street, which is doing a splendid business we will broaden its worth in local mercantile circles."

The Brunner store has always been looked upon as a fixture in the West End. Its removal will be a distinct loss to that section in a mercantile way. It has served its purpose faithfully and well and men who have risen to positions of eminence and who were born and reared in the West End will never cringe from their memories the Brunner Store, modest, it is true, but known far and wide for its honesty and uniform courtesy to customers of many years standing.

Maysville Ready To Receive Sir Knights

Eminent Grand Commander Browning will have reason to feel proud, Wednesday morning when he assists in receiving Portsmouth Sir Knights and their ladies at Maysville, Ky. where the Grand Conclave will be held May 17 and 18. For it was the very gracious invitation extended to Calvary Commandery by Grand Eminent Commander Browning that created interest in the contemplated visit to the hospitable city of Kentucky. Commander Browning is well known to many local Sir Knights and he stated in his invitation of Eminent Commander H. Glen Dula that the Sir Knights of Kentucky would outdo themselves in bestowing hospitality to the Portsmouth visitors, and word received here is to the effect that all is in readiness for the reception of the Portsmouth party.

Should people desire to see the best uniformed band in the country — a band that is going to put Portsmouth on the map at Maysville tomorrow, they are asked to be at the corner of Second and Chillicothe street at 9:45 a. m., when the Grotto Band, led by Prophet George Kah, will line up that the photographer may take a group picture. The band will be diked out in their snappy uniforms, the best that money could buy and where the color scheme makes a picture handsome to look upon. The band will escort the Sir Knights and ladies to the ferry, which will cross the river promptly at 7 o'clock. The special train will arrive here at 7:30, arriving in Maysville at 9 a. m.

Arriving in Maysville, the Portsmouth crowd will be met by a reception committee and the Sir Knights escorted to the church, where the convocations will be opened with religious services. The ladies will be taken in charge and escorted to Maysville's newest restaurant where a delightful repast will be served. The Sir Knights will lunch at the Temple. The committee states the women will be graciously cared for throughout the day. More than twenty-five automobiles have been provided for the ladies, and they will get an opportunity to see the beauties of the old town as well as the surrounding country.

The return train will leave Maysville at 11 o'clock. Through the courtesy of the local management of the Street Railroad Co., two street cars will be at the disposal of the Sir Knights and ladies upon their arrival in Portsmouth. The cars will be at Second and Market streets and there will positively be no disappointment concerning these cars. It is estimated fully 150 people from Portsmouth will make the trip on the special C. & O. train.

Barkoot Shows Are The Best Ever

A large crowd of Veterans of Foreign Wars and their friends attended the festival being staged at the ball grounds at Seventeenth street last night where the K. G. Barkoot Shows have for the time being established an amusement zone, the like of which has not been seen before in Portsmouth. No less than 18 big attractions, redolent in electric lights and brilliant colors form a midway that is seldom seen outside of the big state fairs and similar celebrations.

Chief Distel has put the seal of his approval on the K. G. Barkoot Shows, now appearing here for the benefit of the United Spanish War Veterans at Seventeenth street ball grounds. The Chief says "The K. G. Barkoot Shows are the best and cleanest seen in Portsmouth, so far."

Special matinee performances will be given at all the attractions on Thursday afternoon when everything will be in full blast for the half holiday vacationists.

Principal among the shows, may be mentioned the Society Circus, featuring the educated equine King Alcy-olus, and some other acts of more than ordinary interest. The Superba show is another that is well worth a visit, with clean and clever vaudeville to recommend it. Creation, where the old time London Ghost show is given is one of those entertainments that are welcome, mystery, mirth and frolics is rampant there. The submarine exhibition with the exceedingly clever lecture by Captain Stanley, demonstrating sub sea warfare is an interesting and educational exhibit whilst the pony show where dogs and ponies give a clever exhibition was another favorite.

MAY GET NEW PLANT

Portsmouth may secure another industry the result of a visit to this city of E. W. Carreacabe, representative of John M. Carreacabe, manufacturer and dealer in shanks, twines, leather-board and counters used in shoe manufacturing plants, whose home plant is now located in Chelsea, Mass. The firm is looking for a location in the West to manufacture and care for business expansion. Such a branch would employ about 15 men and women at good wages.

E. W. Carreacabe was here Monday and conferred with President Adam Fricke about locations and shipping possibilities.

It was proposed that the gravel taken from the creek bed be used in raising the bed of the county road, which runs parallel with the stream between the N. & W. station and Brush Creek. The board will go to Rarden next week to look the situation over before taking any action towards the improvement.

New Boston Council Fixes Budget

Approving the budget for 1923 was the main work before New Boston Council last night when a long session was held. The finance committee, Mayor, village clerk and solicitor prepared the budget. The budget for next year provides for $42,800.50 for village expenses. It met with the approval of Council and the ordinance quickly passed.

Clerk Russell Middaugh reported the Industrial Commission of Ohio, Columbus, had bid per and accrued $100,000 for sewer construction bonds and the bid was accepted. The money will be used for the construction of sewers in the east end of the village. The street committee was instructed to meet with the Portsmouth Council to take up the matter of sewer construction in North Moreland addition. As the city sewers will have to have an outlet through the village it was thought best to have uniform sewers constructed.

The Automotive Supply Company of Solotoville was granted a permit to erect and maintain a street curb or sidewalk pump at a new filling station they will erect on Gallia street just west of the town hall.

Several Councilmen reported that cracks had appeared in the brick walls of the new jail being erected in the rear of the engine house and in order that the village engineer may make a detailed inspection the work was ordered halted for the time being. Members who had observed the work claimed it is not up to the standard desired in such an improvement. An ordinance was passed vacating that part of Finney street south of Rhodes avenue and the alley between Rhodes and Stanton and running west of West avenue to Peoples street. This land is occupied by the steel company with their new addition.

A petition from Portsmouth Court Tribe of Den Hur asking permission to hold a street fair in the village the last week in June and the first week in July was refused. The village has an ordinance against street fairs but permission to hold them may be granted on special occasions. Several members spoke in favor of rescinding the prohibitive ordinance but others were against such action claiming that the street carnival did not work to the benefit of the village.

Elijah Concert At High School Tonight

The Portsmouth public is cordially invited to attend the presentation of Mendelssohn's Elijah, at the High School Auditorium this evening. The program will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock. There will be no admission charged.

This concert will conclude the season's work of the Ladies' Musicale, under whose auspices the Community Chorus has been working, with the exception of out-of-town engagements. The chorus will give a program at Lucasville, May 23rd, and at Chillicothe at a later date.

Mr. Edwin Steckel, director of the Community Chorus, at Huntington, W. Va., will be present at tonight's performance. Huntington is undertaking the same kind of musical work as Portsmouth, and we are very happy to have Mr. Steckel with us.

Should there be any of the chorus who are unable to attend, it would be greatly appreciated if they would send their copies of the score. All members of the chorus and orchestra are requested to be present at 7:30 o'clock.

Underwood Art Goods Co. Lease Lehman Building

Announcement was made by the Underwood Art Goods Co., located in the Masonic Temple, that they had leased the entire new building being erected on Fourth street, by Moses Lehman, and would occupy the same by the first of June.

The top floor will be used for office space to accommodate the fast growing mail order business of the company, while the first floor will be used for a gift shop. The interior of the lower floor will be beautifully decorated, in keeping with the high class stock that will be carried by the company. Mrs. Underwood, under whose guiding spirit the company has grown to such large proportions, will leave the last of the week for New York City, where she will purchase stock for the gift shop. It will consist mostly of imported ware, china, brass and bric-a-brac — all the latest ideas in novelties. Incidentally a complete line of novelties for babies will be carried, and arrangements will be made to have a handkerchief department where only hand made handkerchiefs will be sold.

The Underwood Art Goods Co. started several years ago, has enjoyed a most wonderful growth. From a small beginning, staidy desk room in one of the rooms of the First National Bank Building, it moved to a room in the Masonic Temple and later to a suite of four rooms. Now, the company finds it necessary to secure larger quarters in order to accommodate its rapidly growing business.

Big Dance Friday

Dancing lovers of this city are going to swoop down on the Winter Garden Friday evening, when Davidson's Orchestra will stage a farewell dance before accepting an all summer engagement at the Walnut theatre in Louisville. Forgiving Sins After Baptism

The Catholic religion provides two ways for the forgiveness of sins. The first is Baptism. As baptism can be received but once, the sins committed after Baptism are forgiven by another sacrament called Penance. God alone can forgive sins. God can give man the power to forgive sins in His name. Jesus Christ gave the priests of His church the power to forgive sins on Easter Sunday when He said to His apostles: Receive ye the Holy Ghost: Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained. King James Version, John 20:22. Also refer to Matt. 16:19, Matt. 18:18, II Cor. 5:18. God gives power to man to forgive sins by baptizing. There is nothing to restrain God from giving man like power in sacrament of Penance.

Including The War Tax

The eighteen ten-men teams to enter the drive for $200,000 for the erection of a new Mercy hospital and the erection of a school for trained nurses, are in the language of the street, ready and ready to go. This was conclusively demonstrated at a meeting of the captains held at the United Brethren church, Monday evening. Practically every team has been recruited to its full strength, and the captains are enthusiastic over the spirit shown by the members. General Chairman Edward T. Reed presided at the meeting, and stated that he had never seen a better spirit than was exhibited by the respective captains. He was sanguine the drive would be a success and predicted that even more than the quota would be raised. Mr. Vallee Harold made one of his short and vigorous addresses before the captains and he, too, was optimistic as to the outcome of the campaign. He said: "When a body of such representative citizens get behind a movement, doubt, fear and uncertainty comes. Those responsible for the campaign are to be congratulated upon the selection of team captains. They are men of character—big men of this community—and with them as the leaders of the teams there will be no such word as fail." Mr. Harold stated that with every team recruited to its full strength of ten men, it would mean one hundred and eighty progressive citizens in action, and that this body would be backed up by a volunteer force of more than 600.

In all, the meeting last evening was a most enthusiastic one, and the captains as stated above are all ready for the signal.

The Booster meeting which was to have been held at the Holy Redeemer church on tomorrow evening, Wednesday, has been transferred to the Winter Garden. General Chairman Reed will preside at this meeting. There will be singing and addresses by prominent speakers and the affair promises to be largely attended.

Within a few days now, the various slogans, printed in flaming letters, will be flung from trolley wires, while large banners will be placed on the street cars. The campaign will start next week, and by Saturday night, May 27, it is almost certain the $200,000 will be subscribed. Cards will be used in the securing subscriptions.

The various factories will be thoroughly organized and those in charge have been assured of earnest co-operation by the management of the various plants.

To Make Distribution

Another distribution of cash from sales of leaf tobacco through the Butler Tobacco Growers' Association will be made at J. M. Walsh's office in Olway on May 20. This distribution is to be of equal size of the advance payment. Growers are requested to appear in person if possible for their checks.

The second Manchurian plague epidemic spread from Manchouli to Vladivostok, a distance of 1072 miles.

William A. Leonard will deliver the benediction. The meeting continues through Thursday with morning and afternoon sessions. The convention will be not only international, but inter-racial and inter-denominational. Subjects to be discussed include operation in world politics, relief work, world friendship, agriculture, labor and education.

St. Mary's Musicales Is Big Success

That the pupils of the Junior Musical Department of Saint Mary's school have mustered more than the mere rudiments of the lyrical art was proven at the recital given at the P. H. S. Auditorium last evening. A large audience greeted the efforts of the little folks with rounds of hearty applause. The interest taken in classical compositions was evinced by the repetition of three of the masterpieces included in the Music Memory Contest of recent expiration.

Humorous readings, a mandolin trio and a clarinet solo, together with two choruses were rendered in addition to the piano solos. The program: Violin and Piano—Monnet Musical Clara Vetter, Louise Scheffler, Anna Glockner

"Commerce Returning To Stable Condition, Bring Prosperity"—Coolidge

COLUMBUS, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The gradual return of American commerce toward a stable condition, bringing with it prosperity and accomplishments of the present national administration were stressed by Vice President Calvin Coolidge in an address here last night in connection with the semi-centennial celebration of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Proper conditions, brought about through the many activities of the administration, has done much toward making prosperity, he declared.

"The prices of merchandise have ceased their violent fluctuations," Mr. Coolidge said. "Values of agricultural and other commodities which dropped below cost of production have risen toward a reasonable mark. The output of our industries has very greatly increased."

"Our country is being gradually restored by a strict adherence to these fundamental principles which are the foundation of economic prosperity. No one can examine it candidly and escape the conviction that it has been a mighty accomplishment."

Mr. Coolidge pointed out that 500 bills and resolutions have been approved by the senate and approximately the same number by the house since President Harding was inaugurated. The vice president addressed students at Otterbein university at Westerville yesterday.

Need of World Today Is Preventative Medicine, Says Doctor

CINCINNATI, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Byron H. Nellans, of Cincinnati, declared before the opening session of the Ohio State Eclectic Medical Association here today that "the great need of the world today is preventative medicine."

"It is better to keep people well than to cure them after they have become sick," he added. "To carry out a program of preventative medicine will require increased co-operation between the public, the physician and the health commissioners," he said.

The convention will close Wednesday evening with addresses on surgical subjects.

To Honor Dead

At a short business meeting of Germania Lodge, Haru-Gari last night, Sunday, June 4, was the date set for the annual memorial services to be held by the organization. The services will be held at six a. m., with the lodge memorial ritual being read and graves decorated in Greenlawn. A committee composed of John Linck, Charles Stamm and John Wolf was named to make plans for the memorial exercises.

Mr. McCurdy Made Talk

The members of the Women's National Foundation who heard Attorney Russell K. McCurdy, on "The Need of Americanism," last night, heard an enlightening address. After his talk the meeting resolved into an informal forum which was conducted by Mr. McCurdy. The Local Center of the Foundation appreciated highly the privilege of hearing him.

The meeting was held in Room 104 of the high school. The next regular meeting will be held at the same place on the evening of the third Monday in June.

Fire Destroys Stephenson Mansion; Loss $100,000

Special To Times
JACKSON, O., May 16.—When about to partake of dinner yesterday the family and a number of guests of Samuel E. Stephenson of Jackson, learned that flames were enveloping the entire upper portion of Mr. Stephenson's palatial country home. Washtake, located two miles east of Jackson.

The Jackson Fire Department, accompanied by hundreds of assistants rushed to the scene, but the flames had made such headway that the building burned to the ground. Because of the elevation the Fire Department was unable to be of service.

So swift was the progress of the fire that even the clothing of the family was lost and only a small portion of the furnishings could be carried out. The loss is placed at $100,000 partially covered by insurance.

Washtake is known to many Cincinnatians who have at different times been guests within its hospitable walls, and thousands more will remember it as the scene of the great Republican ox roast and barbecue conducted in October, 1920, which was attended by 30,000 persons, including President Harding, Senator Frank B. Willis, Congressmen Nicholas Longworth and A. E. B. Stephens and nearly every prominent Republican of Ohio.

The country home of the Stephensons is on an estate of several hundred acres.

Mr. Stephenson is owner of the Wellston (Ohio) Iron and Furnace Company and Superior (Ohio) cement plant.

Selby Foremen Discuss Waste Problem

When the May meeting of the Selby Superintendents' and Foremen's Association was held Monday evening following the usual supper in the factory lunch room, the only subject for discussion was The Waste Problem. It was taken up at last month's meeting and this discussion this time was merely continuations from the April talks. A committee appointed to consider the waste problem in various departments of the big factory reported. A round table discussion of the reports followed and then a closing talk was made by Roger A. Selby, general manager of the factory, who spoke of Waste or Economy. E. N. Meek, in charge of the Iron-ton and Ashland branch plants of the Selby Shoe Company, was present with several executives from the two plants. They were James Lynt, Hobart Litteral, William McCarty, and Miss Laura Fannin. They were returned to this city in the afternoon and returned to Iron-ton after the meeting.

Music for the meeting was furnished by Walter Davidson's orchestra. A special number was given by J. Watson Goddard.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Nine pottery workers, eight men and one woman, were injured, one seriously, when a gas explosion wrecked a kiln today in the McNeil-Corpus pottery at Wellsville, four miles west of here. Accumulated gas ignited when some one struck a match. The property damage was estimated at $8,500. All of the injured are residents of Wellsville. James Spencer, 25, who sustained a fractured arm and a fractured leg, is the most seriously injured. The others injured are Mrs. Joseph Ramsey, Edward Dierstine, Ralph Whenton, Joseph Holliday, Charles Hall, Edward Eckler, William Buckle and C. J. Hall.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please tell me what day of the week February 24, 1888, came on? E. N. February 24, 1888, fell on Friday.

Dear Dolly—Have been engaged and recently our engagement was broken. In a letter to return this ring as it was given me as an engagement ring?

If there is no chance of a reconciliation, I believe I would send the ring back.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 18 and in love with a boy of 21. I like the boy as a friend but I don't think I could ever marry him. He is not the kind of a man I would want to look at three times a day or spend my life with. He gets on my nerves now at times. He says he is going to ask me to marry him when I get old enough. I won't have him, but I do not want any other girl to have him either. I have not seen him for three weeks and we are supposed to be keeping steady company. Do you think he is quitting me? I wanted the pleasure of turning him down whenever he asked me to marry him, and it makes me feel awfully bad to think that he beat me to it. I intended to keep him as a friend until someone else came along that I liked better. I hate to be without someone to take me around.

TEMPTUOUS LIZZIE
It looks as if the boy were losing interest or you would have heard from him in three weeks time. Do not take your relationship with him too seriously. If you lose him take your loss philosophically and know that there are a lot of boys left and you are going to enjoy some of them.

Probably you are holding too tight reins on the boy. You certainly want him to be happy and if he could be happier with some other girl you should be willing to let him. It is very selfish to begrudge his marriage to another. He probably feels your attitude and that is the reason he has failed to show up for the past few weeks.

Dear Miss Wise—Please give me the names of the leading nursery papers published in Philadelphia, Pa. A READER

I don't know of any nursery paper published in Philadelphia, but the National Nurseryman is published in Hatboro, Pennsylvania. The American Seedman, Florist's Review and the Seed World are published in Chicago. The Florist Exchange is published in New York. The American Nurseryman is published in Rochester, N. Y.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a young man of 24. My work took me to another city for a few months and while there I got acquainted with a girl who fell for me at sight, poor thing. We went around together while I was there and her folks are just about as crazy about me as she was. Dolly,

I was as welcome as the flowers in May in that home. Men are scarce articles in that burg. When I told her I was to leave and come back to dear old Portsmouth she almost fainted. She became down hearted and did not have anything to say. I guess she was waiting for me to say the word. But she failed to hear it. I get letters from her occasionally, and she always tells me how lonely she is. More so, stuff. Sometimes I feel like going back and say here I am take me—then I wake up and think why throw my life away like that. Dolly, she was a nice kid, but I don't see why I should marry her for sympathy, or anything like that. I treated her the same as I treat every girl, and never give her the slightest hint that I wanted her for my wife. I don't think it is up to me to furnish her with a husband, just because she is anxious to get one, do you? No one knows about this affair but myself. Therefore, I am puzzled what to do about it.

HONEST JOHN
Do not make any decision now. The girl's heart is not in any danger of breaking. Perhaps she goes through the same ordeal with every man who pays her any attention. I imagine she enjoys it. Most people like that do enjoy their imaginary love affairs. If you don't love the girl, and have not encouraged her to believe that your intentions were serious, it is not up to you to marry her. However, I think you should quit writing to her since she takes your letters seriously. Don't prolong her agony. Let her forget you and start chasing after other prospective husbands.

PENITENT GIRL—You need not be afraid that your identity will be disclosed. Your letter will be regarded as strictly confidential.

"Mothers All Over the World Should Be Told About Sykes Comfort Powder," says Nurse Fry

Independence, Mo.—"I wish I could tell mothers all over the world about Sykes Comfort Powder. I could write all day long the wonderful results I have had in using it on children. I have proved over and over again that it is the only powder that will heal and prevent chafing, scalding, rashes, skin irritations and soreness, and the little baby whose picture I am sending you has always been entirely free from such troubles by its use."

YOUR BABY IN HOT WEATHER

Breast Milk Is Best Of All In Summer Time

BY MRS. MAX WEST
Late of the United States Children's Bureau

THE easiest baby to take care of and bring through the hot weather safely is the one who is nursed at his mother's breast. Even a few drops of mother's milk may be the means of warding off serious and possibly fatal illness. This is particularly true of the young baby.

Up to three months of age, at least, breast milk is invaluable and even if the mother's supply is not quite sufficient for the baby, she should give him the cream of every drop there is, especially through the hot days of summer.

The baby should be allowed to nurse both breasts, if the supply is scanty. This not only helps the baby, but is the best known way for producing more breast milk. It has been found that more important even than the diet for the nursing mother is the regular stimulation of the breasts by the nursing of the baby, or by a method of hand manipulation by means of which the breasts are emptied, when necessary, by the mother herself.

"Tiny babies, deprived of mother's

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Mr. Peearabout chuckled until his long beard shook and the top of his head grew quite red.

MR. PEERABOUT, the Man-in-the-Moon, shook out of his magic powder over the Twins out of his wonderful ruby shaker and said some words like this: "Looney, moonie, shiver and sneeze. Up here on the moon you'll surely freeze."

"Now, hoary powdery, work your charm," "Keep Nancy and Nick both nice and warm."

Instantly the cold left their bones and a nice, warm glow seemed to spread all through them.

"That feel better?" asked the Moon-Man.

"Oh, much better, thank you," nodded Nancy, who was beginning to like the queer, rugged old fellow and his queer ways of getting things turned around.

"And now," said Mr. Peearabout, putting his shaker away and sitting down himself, "won't you tell me about yourselves, and how it happened that the Fairy Queen sent you to help me? Or would you rather hear about me and the moon-people first?"

"Oh, yes, sir! If you please, sir," begged Nick, who was dying of curiosity. "Things here seem to be so—so different from what they are on the earth. And Nancy and I are all mixed up. Perhaps you'd better tell us all about it so we won't make mistakes while we are here."

Mr. Peearabout chuckled until his long beard shook and the top of his head grew quite red. He winked wisely at the Magic Mushroom, who had come with the Twins and who was about to take his departure and go back to his duties on the earth.

"Well, well, well! Aren't they wise, though?" cried their host. "When you go back to the Fairy Queen's palace, Mr. Mushroom, please tell her that she couldn't have sent better people to help me."

"An ounce of sense is better than ten pounds of wisdom and these children seem to have enough for a regiment. Besides I have enough wisdom for everybody, being half a million years old. Now I'll tell you my story."

The Good MAXWELLof know-how helped the ladies make up: after which he was to shoot the party as a whole in some little scene or other, in addition to making individual close-ups.A compliment signified their screen debut: the presence of Miss Daley—"in person"—composed, hospitable, showing every anxiety to make their tests successful."I thought it would be nice if we could all have tea," Miss Daley explained—"make a regular little scene of it.""I'm sure that would be delightful," replied Lucinda, suspended judgment meeting into liking even in these first few minutes.Miss Daley was careful enough to make her guests forget themselves and the trial to come, as they took their places—and were served with tea by actor-waiters in correct livery. All the same, Lucinda noticed that their hostess ingeniously maneuvered to a central position in the foreground where she sat full-face to the camera; this being by far her best phase. And just before the light blazed up, the girl launched into a spirited account of her passage-along with King Laughlin.Clever actress that she was, Miss Daley extemporized a star part for herself by rising without warning and announcing that she would have to run and change for the scenes to be photographed."I'll try to hurry and try to get ready before you go," she said, shaking hands all round with charming grace; "but if I don't see you again
it's been just wonderful to meet you all, and I do hope this isn't goodbye forever!"The bank lights hissed out and the camera stills hissed out.

"Nice little scene," said Mr. Culp.

intercepting Lucinda as she left the set. "Go! to screen pretty. I'm bankin' on Jack here."He dropped an affectionate, fat hand on the shoulder of the cameraman. "Excuse me, Mrs. Druce, want to introduce you to Mr. Jack Timmly, best little cameraman ever turned a crank." The cameraman grinned sheepishly and proffered a diffident hand. "No tempament, no funny business about Jack, Mrs. Druce.
When Jack says 'that little scene of it,' I know it did.""Slight, Mrs. Druce," Mr. Timmly answered. "I wouldn't say about the others, but you and that other little blonde lady—"

"Mrs. Lontaine."

"Her and you registered like a million dollars."Nevertheless the little fillup administered to her self-esteem made Lucinda feel more contented; it deepened her interest in the business in hand.On the point of leaving, Culp put in a hasty appearance and insisted on escorting Lucinda to the door."Lis'n, Mrs. Druce," he abruptly volunteered: "Jack says your test's going to turn out great. That's just what he said—like a million dollars.
And I been thinkin' . . . I was speakin' it over with Mrs. Culp in her dressing-room, d'y see, and she's strong for it, says she'd be tickled to pieces. I was thinkin' maybe you'd like to try goin' into pitchers.""Well, Dobbin, d'y see, looks and style and all, everything but experience; and that's somethin' you can get right here in this studio, workin' with Mrs. Culp. I got a good part for you in her next picture you could try out on, and—""It's awfully kind of you," Lucinda interrupted. "and I'm truly appreciative. Mr. Culp; but really I couldn't think of it.""Well, of course, if you don't,
that's different. He pondered gloomily this incomprehensible. "Tell you what, Mrs. Druce: you go home and think it over.""Seriously, Mr. Culp; if I should think it over for a month, my decision would be the same. But thank you ever so much—and please, thank Mrs. Culp for me, too.""Well," Culp said reluctantly, bold-ing the street door, "if that's the way
you feel about it . . . well, of course
. . . 'G'night, Mrs. Druce, and pleasantest you."Crossing to her car, Lucinda experienced a vagary of vivid reminiscence. Just for an instant the clock was turned back for her a dozen years and more, bringing dazed eyes of dream from the warm and scented romance of a matinee, her thrilled, perceptuous groping multitude toward reconciliation with the mysterious, mysterious of streets
mantled in blue twilight.RHEUMATISM

THE THREE LITTLE TAILORS

Phone 490-X

That passed too quickly, too soon
she was Lucinda Druce, once more grown up and married, disillusioned.Notwithstanding that, she drove directly home, pausing only to drop Daubeneay at his club and the Loutaines at their hotel.The telephone rang in the boudoir.
The maid answered for her, and came to report: Mr. Druce had called up to say he wouldn't be dining at home that night, he was detained by a "conference."Without looking, Lucinda knew that the woman's eyes were dimmed,
her lips twitching.Her just anger of that afternoon
recurred with strength redoubled.On leaving her bath Lucinda delayed only long enough to shrug into a dressing-gown before going to the telephone, call Daubeneay and make an engagement for the evening.A first glance, the huge main room of the Palais Royal seemed less frequented by clients than by waiters; but the influx of the former was constant, and when a gang of incurable melodramat-ists, crashed, blared and whanged
into a jazz fox-trot, the oval dance floor was quickly hidden by swaying couples.For some minutes Lucinda sat looking on over without seeing these herded dancers, only aware of the shifting swirl of color and the hypnotic influence of savage music, her thoughts far from this decadent adaptation of jungle orgies which she had come to witness. And presently a smile began to flicker in the depths of her eyes."Oh!" she said, rousing when Daubeneay uttered a note of interrogation—
"I was thinking about Laughlin this afternoon, remembering King Laughlin moping and mawing in his magnificent delusion that he was conducting an orchestra.""You don't know about the handsome fellow Mr. Culp made me, with his wife's approval, just as we were going away," she continued."I WAS THINKIN' MAYBE YOU'D LIKE TO TRY GOIN' INTO PITCHERS."Dobbin frowned. "What kind of an offer?""To become a movie actress under the Culp banner, a sister-in-art, to Alma Daley.""Do you mean Culp actually had the impudence—""Oh come!" Lucinda's amusement subsided. "Mr. Culp was most kind, at least he meant to be. He said he,
his wife and his cameraman—whose opinion he values more highly than any director's—all agreed I had shown a great deal of promise; and that if I cared to try it on, he'd be glad to give me a good part in Miss Daley's next picture, and if I made good that he'd form a company to star me."

"What sort?"

"Very well, Dobbin. Let's say no more about it."The constraining that fell between them like a curtain of muffling folds,
was presently emphasized by an abrupt suspension of the music. When Daubeneay could endure it no longer,
he broke it with a question, the most impolite conceivable: "You didn't tell me what answer you gave Culp, Lucinda?""Didn't I? But I'm sure it doesn't matter."But his manifest penitence earned him no more than a show of restoration to favor. The heart in Lucinda's bosom felt hot and hard and heavy with chagrin, she had barked so confidently on Dobbin's sympathy . . ."Don't let's talk any more for a while, Dobbin—I'd rather dance."Descending the several steps from the box level to the common, they threaded their way through a jam of tables to the fringe of the dance-mat,
in whose closely-packed, rock-ing and surging route considerable imagination and ingenuity were required to find room.All about them couples were practicing every conceivable variety of step that could be executed to the rhythmic beaten out by tireless drums whose timbre had all the grim and weirdly stimulating monotony of African tom-toms. Many contented themselves with a solemn, well-high ritualistic jigging by means of which they traversed the floor crab-wise, lurch by lurch. Others charged short distances at headlong speed, checked short, whirling madly darted and swung again and again with incredible agility in a sort of corset-like frenzy.
Still others favored a tedious twirling, like anomic derisions. Yetthere were strangely few collisions . . .And suddenly she knew she had had enough."It's too crowded," she told Dobbin; and he nodded agreement. "Shall we stop when we get round to our box?"Without warning Lucinda was struck by a wildly careering body with such force that she lost footing altogether and must have fallen but for Dobbin.Simultaneously the floor shook with the impact of two heavy falls, and clinging to Dobbin, a little dazed, Lucinda saw a strikingly pretty young woman, stunningly
underdressed, sprawling at her feet,
and at a yard's distance a man in a similar plight.

A meeting was held at the First Christian Church last night, for the observance of Mothers and Daughters week. It was community night and the various churches of the city were represented on the program, while a fine attendance enjoyed the talks and other numbers offered. The meeting opened with devotional exercises by Rev. Clifton, which were followed by a short musical service.Three talks were on the program, each one helpful, and beautiful in the sentiment they expressed. Mrs. H. H.
Heer of the Second Presbyterian Church, spoke on "Our Daughters,"while Miss Margaret Haney of the United Brethren Church, responded with "Our Mothers." Frank W. Sheridan spoke for a few minutes, his

St. Mary's School To Present Play

It has been under public observation for some time that "The Penitent," a two-act musical comedy, will be presented by Saint Mary's High School at the P. H. S. auditorium on Thursday and Saturday evenings. It is a true portrayal of college life, and the spirit reminiscent will no doubt hold an upper hand in the hearts of all present.

For the especial benefit of those for whom it will be inopportune to witness the performance Thursday, the play will be repeated Saturday evening. The curtain will be drawn at 8 o'clock sharp both evenings.

Removes Hairy Growth Without Pain or Bother

(Modes of Today)

It is not necessary to use a painful process to remove hairy growths, for with a little delicate handy you can keep the skin entirely free from these beauty destroyers. To remove hair, make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water. Spread this on the hairy surface and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. To guard against disappointment, be careful to get real delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.—advertisement.

WHO WEARS OUT YOUR HUSBAND'S CUFF EDGES?

It is not your husband's fault that his cuffs get frayed and have to be turned while the shirt is still good. To be sure he gets the cuffs dirtier than any other part of the shirt, but it is the rubbing you do getting the dirt out that wears the material.

Most of that rubbing is not necessary. Soaking in Rinso will get the cuffs just as clean without weakening a single thread. The rich, cleansing Rinso suds gently loosen all the dirt so that a thorough rinsing carries it off. If there is sometimes a fine line that is not entirely soaked out, rub lightly with dry Rinso, and that too will disappear at once.

Make your husband's shirts last twice as long. Save the wear and tear of rubbing so disastrous to clothes, such a drain on your own strength.

SOCIETY

Saturday, May 27th has been selected as the date for the Greek Festival and Crowning of the May Queen, which will be given by two hundred Girl Scouts and members of the Girls' Community Club. Unless other arrangements are made, the festival will be staged at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, in the old Children's Home grounds.

This is the third annual outdoor festival given under the direction of Miss Mary Griffin, supervisor of the Girls' Community Club. Last year approximately four thousand persons witnessed the afternoon's program, and this year's exercises promise to be even more successful. The festival will be staged at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, in the old Children's Home grounds.

Stephanie Gavotte—Campbell Ave. Girl Scouts.
Valse Bleue—Mary McGuire—Esther Pennywit.
Humoresque—Garfield School Scouts.

The Swan—Aria—Dorothy Haag, Dorothy Nutter, Charlotte Hewitt, Melody in F—Ballet of twelve.

Valse Bleue—McKinley School Scouts.

"The Penitent," an exhilarating two act comic opera with a modern college setting, written by Oscar J. Lehrer and Frank M. Colville, will be presented by Saint Mary's high school at the P. H. S. auditorium on Thursday and Saturday evenings of this week. The comedy is of quite a different character from that of previous class plays. It is expected that it will even surpass former productions such as "The Gypsy Rover" and "The Treasure Hunters," both of which made decided hits when presented here. Tickets can be procured from students of the school.

The Portsmouth Community chorus will present the oratorio "Elijah" as their last offering of the season. This evening at 8:15 o'clock at the high school auditorium. Eighty singers are participating in the chorus. At that time, Grant Whitlamar manager of the coming Mercy hospital campaign will address the assembly. A social time and refreshments will be features of the evening.

U. S. Reply

Interest in the next move of the powers attending the Italian meeting. Impartial observers at Genoa have been spanning recently in stating that only the hope of securing the attendance of the United States either at Genoa or at the proposed conference at The Hague had prevented the framing of an impasse. This hope was definitely removed in the reply dispatched by the state department last night to Ambassador Child, to a formal invitation proffered through the French delegation at Genoa.

"This government is unable to conclude that it can help fully to participate in the meeting at The Hague," Secretary Hughes cabled the American ambassador, "as this would appear to be a continuance under a different nomenclature of the Genoa conference and destined to encounter the same difficulties. If the attitude disclosed in the Russian memorandum of May 11 remains unchanged."

Up To Russia Herself
The United States, Mr. Hughes
continued, maintained its original view that "the ultimate question" to be considered in connection with European economics would be found in restoration of productivity in Russia, the essential conditions of which must be provided within Russia herself."

AUDITOR CHANDLER REFUSES TO SIGN CERTIFICATE; HOSPITAL BOND ISSUE IS HELD UP

Fireworks Set Off When Refusal Is Made; Members Talk Straight From Shoulder

The bond issue of $50,000 for an addition to the city hospital was held up temporarily, at least, last evening at the special meeting of the city council, when City Auditor J. Chandler, refused to sign a certificate showing that kind of a building was to be erected and the probable life of the contemplated improvement, maintaining that he had no authority under the Griswold law to make certification until the terms of the law had been complied with. The auditor was backed up in his stand by City Solicitor Johnson although the latter admitted that it was a formal matter and that the auditor had not in a single instance refused to sign the certificate for bond issues in the past, before passage of the ordinance, which is required under the provisions of a new law.

The legal point in the controversy was raised by Judge George M. Osborn, who stated that it was useless to proceed with the legislation until such certification was signed. Later when an attempt was being made to pass the ordinance regardless of the question raised, Judge Osborn stated that if such a course were adopted his resignation as chairman of the finance committee would be placed in the proper hands.

Thrusts Parried

The stand taken by the auditor led to the poking of some caustic remarks in the direction of that official from the floor and other things which occurred during the debate on the proposition in general served to enliven the proceedings and there was considerable sharp repartee passed between the members during the session.

The first movement to delay action on the ordinance came soon after the meeting had been called to order by President Al Waghorn and Clerk Chandler had read the call issued by Mayor W. N. Gableman, stating for what the meeting had been called, when Member Osborn, leader of the insurgent forces, offered a motion that the third reading of the bond ordinance be passed until the first meeting in June, and the motion was quickly seconded by Councilwoman Emma Cramer.

Gave His Reasons.

Judge Osborn then proceeded to give his reasons why he proposed the reference of the matter to the June meeting, stating that the call for the special meeting was unauthorized and not contemplated and not according to the intention of the legislature in passing the law authorizing three members to make written request for such a meeting, and this had not been done. He said he did not question the good faith of the mayor in making the call but it was an unusual act of the mayor in making said call and there was a divergence between the newspaper account of the purpose of the call and what it really was. He spoke of the defeat of the attempt to force the reading of the ordinance, that this attempt had been defeated by a majority vote.

Opposed To Adjournments.

He then went on to say that he was opposed to adjourning meetings and holding special meetings just because some lodge or organization was to hold a meeting on the same date. He said that he was a Knight Templar, but that he was opposed to adjourning a regular meeting of the city council because Knights Templar, the K. of P., the Odd Fellows, Sea Hur, Woman's Club, Chamber of Commerce or any other organization was to hold a meeting; that there were three knights on the council and two of them had told him they did not expect to go to Marsville to the conclave and one would go. He said that the meetings of the council were fixed and should be held in accordance with the rule.

Learned A Few Things.

Councilman Osborn stated that he had attended the boarder meeting of the New Mercy Hospital at the U. B. Church and there had learned several things that would be of value to the city council.

He stated that he learned of the costs of maintaining the hospital by the Sisters of St. Francis was such that the enlargement of the hospital would either put the city hospital out of competition entirely or result in an increased cost of the New Mercy Hospital, for the city hospital cannot be operated at much less than at present. He stated that a number of speakers at the meeting, including Mr. Vallee Harold, stated that "the New Mercy Hospital was open and that any physician in the city could practice there." This statement he said was not questioned by any one present. He further stated that all those who were promoting the New Mercy Hospital were outspoken in favor of both propositions. Concluding, he expressed the thought that "the council should know more before hastening into the passage of the proposed ordinance; that the matter of two or three weeks would not forward the proposition any length of time."

Cites Certificate Law.

He further stated that according to the Griswold act, a certificate of the city auditor must be attached to the ordinance before the same could be legally passed by the council. Here was where the swift moving ship of state struck a snag and plunged head first under the mighty deep as the astounded crew sailing with all flags at full mast came to face with the fact that the ordinance just read contained a certificate, but an unsigned one. Judge Osborn said he could not see any extraordinary emergency for action.

The vote on the motion to defer action was the first test of strength and the roll call showed that the forces in favor of the bond issue were in the majority, the motion going down to defeat, six to three, Members James Bauer, C. C. Hor, Joseph L. Kountz, Floyd Unger, Edward Westphal and Charles White opposing while Members Cramer, Diener and Osborn supported it.

Ordinance Read.

The chair announced that the motion was lost and ordered the clerk to proceed with the third reading of the ordinance. At the conclusion of the reading of the ordinance the clerk announced that the certificate had not been signed.

Edward Westphal then arose and offered a motion, seconded by Joseph L. Kountz, that the ordinance just read be passed.

Miss Cramer's Report.

The chair called for remarks and Miss Emma Cramer arose stating that in the procedure to pass the ordinance the hospital committee had not been considered and that no report had been made by the committee although she had the report and was waiting for it to be called for and that now she desired the privilege to offer the report, the date of which had been changed two or three times. She was granted permission and read her report as follows:

To the Council of the City of Portsmouth, Ohio.
Gentlemen:
Your Hospital Committee submits herewith, for your consideration, a report as to their findings relative to a bond issue of sixty thousand dollars for an addition to Hemstead Hospital.

Mr. Diener and the chairman of the committee beg to state that they are adverse to the proposal for the following reasons: First, a year ago last November the question of a bond issue for an addition to the City Hospital was submitted by ballot to the citizens of Portsmouth, and by them defeated.

Legislators are prone to spend the revenue of a community without weighing the matter judiciously. Too few times is it permitted that the people enter a protest. They speak negatively on a bond issue for the hospital through the ballot at the election in November, 1920; and their decision should be respected. It is both unwise and dangerous to override the safeguard that has been provided by state authority; viz., the law that requires a two-thirds majority vote before bonds may be issued for hospital purposes.

Second, the financial situation of the city, at the present time, is not conducive to the expenditure of money for a bond issue for the City Hospital. The entire bonded indebtedness of Portsmouth is $1,333,500, $504,000 of which is subject to the 2 1/2 per cent limit in the immediate future $80,000 in sewer bonds for Lawson run; and in a comparatively short time, something like $300,000 more will be required for additional sewers. Streets and alleys are to be paved, repaired or resurfaced; all means the issuance of bonds and more bonds. With thoughtless expenditure, it would not be a difficult matter to plunge our city into disaster. True, unless some unforeseen demand arises, we shall be able to cancel the bonds that fall due in 1922; on the other hand, we shall have to refund some of those that have come due in 1923. We are at the present time, refunding bonds that were issued by the city to buy the ground and buildings that were given as a bonus to the Norfolk and Western R. R. as the nucleus of the present terminals. These bonds were issued before some of the present members of council were born; and, may, from

About The City's Finances

The Times has heard it stated that

Miss Cramer was misinformed in her remarks to the city council concerning the finances of the city, and has asked Mayor Gableman to make a statement as to whether her figures were correct. His statement is as follows:

"In answer to the statement of Miss Emma Cramer in last evening's council meeting that unless some unforeseen demand arises the city shall be able to cancel the bonds that fall due in 1922."

The sinking fund levy for the retirement of bonds and interest payments due in 1922 were provided in June of 1921. As a result of this levy together with ordinary receipts into the sinking fund aside from taxes, the income into the sinking fund for 1922 will exceed $144,257. Sinking fund requirements for 1922 total $110,500. The city therefore will not only pay its sinking fund obligations this year, but will accumulate a surplus of $33,757. This policy has been in vogue since 1920 in Portsmouth, as a result of which we have not only met all sinking fund requirements but have set up a surplus in this fund of approximately $100,000.

Sinking fund requirements for 1923, which of course do not include interest payments on bonds issued during the remainder of this year total $153,587.50, the largest for any one year in the history of the city. The program adopted to meet this unusual demand is as follows: The sinking fund levy for 1923 will be fixed the same as in 1922, which brought $132,000. The balance required will be taken from the accumulated surplus of 1920, 1921 and 1922.

Portsmouth has outstanding $77,000 in refunding bonds, $35,000 of which were issued in 1893 for sewers, and $42,000 in 1904 for loam. This $35,000 issue will be paid in 1923 as will $3,000 of the $5,000 issue of 1904. The balance of the refunding total, $30,000, was refunded in 1918 and 1919. The title of these bonds are refunding loan, sewer levee and embankment and city's proportion of street improvement.

The reason for refunding these bonds was that the levy was not made large enough to meet the sinking fund requirements in 1918 and 1919 and in addition no provision was made to take care of a permanent sinking fund on the plan such as was adopted in 1920.

Relative to the total bonded indebtedness of the city being $1,733,500, $829,500 is waterworks indebtedness. $102,000 represents bonds issued prior to June 2, 1911, $28,000 are deficiency bonds and $55,000 emergency bonds, total $225,000, which represents total bonds issued outside of the limit. Therefore the balance, $504,000 represents the bonded indebtedness of Portsmouth, governed by the 2 1/2 per cent limitation. The tax duplicate of Portsmouth is $520,000, which means that our bond limitation is $1,000,000.

We will have no "peak years" in the sinking fund requirements after 1923 until 1930; when $107,500 in bonds mature. Maturities for the intervening years are as follows:

1924	$35,000
1925	$44,500
1926	$43,500
1927	$43,000
1928	$44,500
1929	$32,000

After thorough investigation your committee cannot conscientiously endorse a bond issue of $50,000 for an addition to Hemstead Hospital.

Very respectfully submitted,
Emma M. Cramer, Chairman
Jos. A. Diener.

Hospital—Yes, 6,062; no, 3,000; 282 votes short of two-thirds.

Solicitor Backs Auditor

The matter of Auditor Chandler's failure to sign a certification of the ordinance then came to the surface with one great spurge and the City Solicitor was called on again to make a statement of the legality of the ordinance if passed without such certification.

Solicitor Johnson stated that the auditor's certificate on the ordinance was absolutely necessary before its passage to make it legal under the provisions of the Griswold Act which specifies the time limit for the payment of bonds may be issued, depending on the probable life of the proposed improvement. The solicitor further stated, however, that the present instance was the first time the city auditor had refused to sign such certificate to bond ordinances, such action in the past having been regarded simply as a formal matter.

Miss Cramer at this juncture called attention to the statutes providing for the appointment of a committee to build the proposed addition and she insisted that the law be followed. She was politely advised that council was not concerned about the commission as yet but was interested only in providing the funds for the improvement and she was assured that the law would be followed and that there would be a commission created in due time to supervise the erection of the addition.

Auditor Explains Position

Auditor Chandler then attempted to explain his position, saying that only tentative plans had been submitted showing the character of the building proposed to be built, as far as material was concerned, whether it was to be constructed of brick, stone or wood, which he considered necessary under the law and wound up by declaring that he positively refused to sign the certificate until these conditions were met.

for was the signal for the touching off of some real "fireworks". Councilman Edward Westphal starting the outbreak by criticism of the auditor's action and questioning his motive in persisting in holding up the ordinance on a technicality, declaring that it was an outrage for a minor city official to assume such authority and branded it a slap at the city legislative body. The scrappy leader of the administration forces stated that his investigation had convinced him that there is urgent need of increased hospital facilities and he expressed the hope that the drive for the addition to Mercy hospital will go over big, giving his hearty endorsement to the improvement of that institution as well as to Hemstead hospital. He said that he had talked to a number of prominent men in the city and all had been in favor of the plans to improve both institutions.

Westphal then took a fling at the Morning Sun, declaring that those members of council who had dared to favor the bond issue had received a lot of advertising through editorials which had appeared in the newspaper, and he desired to ask the editor of that paper if "he would oppose the resurfacing of Galia, Second and Eleventh streets, petitioned for by property owners, at a cost of $40,000 to be raised by bond issue?" He claimed he would like to know in advance as a representative of the people in order that

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 16.—Independent stocks were again the central feature at the opening of today's stock market. Mixed gains and losses in that group indicated the conflicting views of professional traders. Lack of volume opened at a gain of almost one point, but this was extinguished within the first 15 minutes to 2% points. Crucible Steel, which was under severe pressure in yesterday's final dealings, made an initial recovery of 1 1/2 points. Midvale and Republic Steels were fractionally better, but Bethlehem, Vandalia and United States Steels closed lower. Moderate reactions were made by Standard Oil, Baldwin, Mexican Petroleum, American Sugar and several of the shippings. Petroleum continued strong under lead of United Refining. Lackawanna Steel extended its rise to 3/8, a new high for the current movement, during the morning. Other independent stocks, especially Sloss-Sheffield, Crucible, Republic and Republic were 1 to 1 1/2 points higher. Coppers added 1 to 2 points to yesterday's gains. High priced oils threw off their early heaviness on buying of Mexican Petroleum and General Asphalt. American Ice led the specialties at a 6 point rise and Davison Chemical, Industrial Alcohol, Consolidated Gas and Public Service of New Jersey were strong. Trading in today's moderately active stock market again concentrated largely in steel and related issues, especially coppers. Rails and equipments were dull at narrow changes. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares. The closing was irregular.

Chicago Grain And Provisions CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 16.—Active general buying gave a decided lift to wheat prices today in the early dealings. The majority of traders appeared to construe United States supreme court decision on the Capper-Thacher act as a bullish factor. Besides an outlook for advance in Liverpool quotations tended also to raise values here. On the other hand, the receipts of wheat here continued liberal, 230 carloads, and there were new deliveries of 263,000 bushels on May contracts. The opening, which varied from 3/4 to 2 1/2 higher, with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/2 to 1 1/2, was followed by slight further gains. The close was unsettled 2 1/4 to 3/8 net higher with May 1 1/4 1/2 and July 1 1/2 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2.

Corn and cuts went upward with wheat. After opening 3/4 to 1/2 higher, July 64 1/2 to 65, the corn market scored moderate gains all around. Oats remained unchanged to 1/4 to 1/2 higher, July 39 1/2 to 40, and later made a slight general advance. Provisions were neglected, but were firmer in line with hog values.

The close was steady, 3/4 to 1/2 net higher, July 63 1/2 to 64 1/2.

Culver Pictures At Sun Tonight

The pictures show the cadets of Culver Military Academy in barracks, in the class room and on the drill field and were enacted entirely by the cadets. Views of the sports, mass games and recreations of the corps, together with many other interesting side-lights on cadet life are reproduced in the films.

Where Are Balloons?

Where are the fifty balloons sent out by the advertising department of Anderson Bros. in the week ending May 14? E. C. Hood and the other members of the firm would like very much to know.

As a feature of the big 48th anniversary sale at the store some half a hundred balloons were released, they being sent out around noon each day. The Times advertising man himself sent up a dozen the first day, five of which carried dollar coupons good during the sale.

All told there were 25 dollar coupons sent out and many a coupon for a balloon has ever been reported to the store. As the wind naturally varied during the week the gas bags went off in every which direction, and it seems very strange indeed that some were not found. Where are they, anyway?

Auditor Refuses

the project could be abandoned without further worry and trouble. He asserted that the city hospital was in fine condition and pointed out that the excellent staff of physicians had made the hospital the splendid institution that it is today. The speaker claimed that the Sun had caused much "fireworks" over the hospital matter and he proceeded to flay the editorials that had appeared in the newspaper opposing the project. He further informed why the Sun editor never objected to bond issues for other improvements and demanded to hear from the editorial man on that score.

Takes Final Fling

In his closing remarks Westphal said he never heard of anybody being against the plan to improve the hospital and declared that if the institution was such a detriment to the city as some would have you believe then it is time that it should be sold, he said. He took a final claw at the city auditor before taking his seat by ridiculing the stand taken by that official.

Snarling under the attack Auditor Chandler sought permission to ask Westphal a question but the chair ruled against him when Westphal objected with much vigor on the ground he was not a member of council.

Mr. Bauer Scores Sun

Then Councilman James G. Bauer arose and proceeded to score the Morning Sun for its editorials in the hospital matter. He said that "some Republicans, ex-officio holders and down and outers, were opposed to the hospital addition." He said he "had a talk with a physician of Mercy Hospital and he was not against the City Hospital addition."

Horror Sarcastic
Councilman "Chad" Horr was also a bit sarcastic when he declared that he "didn't pay any attention to the Morning Sun." He said that the Sun had boldly stated that "Nig" Blair couldn't fight again in this city and then reversed itself and said he could fight. He thought perhaps the Sun might duplicate its feat and come over soon and espouse the hospital addition.

He did not think it wise to proceed in view of the very technical refusal of the auditor to sign the ordinance, at least, until the auditor's demands had been complied with.

Miss Cramer Regrets Brawl

Miss Emma Cramer here arose and said that she regretted that the council had permitted itself to engage in a brawl that the body should proceed with dignity. She said "she thought it was undignified for councilmen to make such personal remarks about the Sun, and that all had a right to their opinion."

Here the City Auditor re-read the unsigned certificate at the end of the ordinance and again stated that no plans had been filed or approved, as required by law.

Willing To Take Chances

When Councilman Westphal insisted on passing the measure notwithstanding the law cited, declaring he was willing to take a chance on it being legal and suggesting that if it wasn't any action taken could be rescinded, brought a protest from Member Osborn, who declared that he would have nothing to do with the sale of the bonds so authorized as a member of the finance committee and that if the effort to pass the ordinance was successful his resignation as chairman of the committee was in the hands of council.

Member Diener here offered a motion to adjourn and it carried by a vote of six to three. Members Cramer, Bauer, Horr, Osborn, Unger and Diener voting in favor of quitting while Whit, Kountz and Westphal voted to continue.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Eliza Jane Clark

Death closed a beautiful and useful life Monday evening when Mrs. Eliza Jane Clark passed to the Great Beyond, the final summons coming at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Gravitt of Jamestown, Ohio. She had been in poor health for the last few weeks and death was not unexpected.

She was the daughter of the late W. W. and Mary Kathryn Dunbar and was born at West Union, O., April 10, 1837 being 85 years 1 month and 5 days of age at the time of her death.

In 1816 she was united in marriage to George M. Clark, who preceded her to the Great Beyond several years ago. To this union were born seven children.

Surviving her are five daughters: Mrs. Kathryn Baker of Dayton, O.; Mrs. Maud Plumb, of George, O.; Mrs. Gertrude Stewart of Lockbourne, O.; Mrs. Stella Gravitt of Jamestown, O.; and Mrs. Sylvia Shonkwer, of Washington, C. H., Ohio. One son, George A. Clark, of Sciotoville, O., one son died in infancy.

Also two sisters, Mrs. Celia Seaman and Mrs. Rose Chennoweth, both of Peebles, Ohio.

At an early age she united with the Baptist Church at Hillsdown, O., and held firmly to that belief until the end.

She was a kind and loving mother and was always ready to do a kind deed. To know her was to love her and she will be missed with genuine sorrow throughout her wide circle of friends.

The funeral services will be held from the Lucasville M. E. church Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. A. K. Murphy in charge. Burial in Lucasville cemetery.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Keller and Marshall Logan of New Boston were six o'clock dinner guests Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Aldkins of Bonser Run.

Last Friday evening the members of the Junior class of Sciotoville High School entertained the members of the Senior class and the faculty of the school with a forget-me-not banquet. The banquet hall where the delicious four-course dinner was served, was decorated in the colors of the class of 22, blue and gold, while the tables were dimly lighted with tall, yellow candles, and the places were marked with tiny baskets of forget-me-nots. Ferns and baskets of wild honeysuckle completed the decorations.

The toasts were given uniquely, in the form of a newspaper, the toastmaster being called the editor. Lynn Sloan gave his toast, "The Great Disaster," in the form of a front page feature story. Edna Hanson responded with an "Interview with Dr. Belario." Myrune Wade spoke "Socially," and Donald Belmont, handled the "Sports," "Topics of the Day," was Clair Walden's theme, and Katharine Bailey concluded with the "Advertisements."

During the banquet, music was furnished by Bobcat's Orchestra. The affair was one of the most delightful of the school year which is almost finished, and the custom of the Junior's banquet for showing their departing classmates will no doubt be continued at S. H. S.
